

A BIG PARADE OF STRIKERS IN CHICAGO

Packers Issued Another Rosy Statement.

Run on the Drovers' Bank Continued at Chicago in a Modified Form, Today.

Chicago, August 6.—The striking employees of the stockyards district and their sympathizers to the estimated number of 30,000 paraded this morning over a route in the territory of the yards and ending at Oswald's Grove, at Halstead and Fifty-second streets, where a picnic was held and a good time enjoyed. Vast numbers of women and children were in line. The packers continued to issue rosy statements of the condition of their plants, Swift's attorney claiming the output of that concern having reached 86 2-3 per cent of the normal capacity. The run on the Drovers' bank continued in a modified form this morning but 200 depositors being in line.

ELECTOR

On the Ticket Resigns As Roosevelt Doesn't Suit Him.

Huntington, W. Va., August 6.—John B. Farr, presidential-elect in the Republican ticket in the Fifth Congressional district, resigned today. Farr assigns as his reason that he wanted to be free to act without party ties to bind him and that he was done following blindly after party emblems.

OHIO WILL BE A BATTLEGROUND

In the Campaign This Year—Great Uneasiness Among the Leaders Who are to Manage the Republican Campaign.

Columbus, O., Aug. 6.—The opening of the Republican headquarters and the inauguration of an active Republican campaign in the state of Ohio as early as the first of August, is an evidence that the managers of the G. O. P. in this section are not as confident of their ground as they have

JAPANESE LOSE 13,000 MEN IN ATTACK ON PORT

Says Dispatch Received in St. Petersburg today.

Mikado's Forces Converging on Liao
Yang From Three Sides—
Hard Fighting.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 6.—A telegram from Liao Yang, today, states that the Japanese have lost 13,000 killed and wounded in the attack on the Russian center.

Yesterday and today 54 battalions of Japanese attacked the Russian center at Hudsiao. The enemy charged repeatedly. Each time their ranks were decimated. Our troops then slowly retreated and selected suitable positions, from which they inflicted terrible loss on the enemy with cavalry. The Japanese casualties are estimated as being ten and thirteen thousand men killed and wounded.

A dispatch received from Kuropatkin this afternoon reports an advance of the Japanese army and an engagement on the banks of the Taitsite river, but gives no details of the fight. It is reported that the Czar has urged Kuropatkin to exhaust every means to maintain his position at Liao Yang. Another reports says that the Russians are so exhausted that any rapid movement, such as is necessary to the successful evacuation of Liao Yang, is impossible. The Japanese are reported to be converging on Liao Yang from three sides.

London, Aug. 6.—A dispatch from Nagasaki says the report has reached there that Port Arthur has fallen.

Berlin, Aug. 6.—The National Zeitung prints a telegram from Tokio, in which it is stated that there are five Japanese divisions before Port Arthur.

time ago. Private Secretary Marsh and Jesse Weirick—the latter one of the smoothest individuals ever identified with a political campaign in any state—have been quietly conducting the early stages of the Republican campaign from their private quarters in the Hartman hotel for the past month and have succeeded very well in their effort to attract no attention to themselves. While Republican headquarters are presumably in the Clinton building at the corner of High and Chestnut streets, the most important results of the Republican management and the most interesting incidents of its campaign proceed from the Hotel Hartman, where General Dick and all his principal associates are always quartered.

Democratic confidence in the outlook in Ohio is increasing correspondingly with Republican apprehension. It is known here that Judge Parker and ex-Senator Davis, David B. Hill, Sheehan, Belmont and all the Eastern leaders take a deep interest in the Ohio campaign. They are far from regarding the situation here as hopeless. It has been pointed out to them recently by certain powerful influences in this state that Ohio may be as desirable ground as Indiana. Peculiar and unprecedented conditions give rise to this theory.

The Republicans of Ohio are today in a state bordering upon panic. Consider for a moment the losses in leadership recently sustained by the G. O. P. in this state. McKinley died, and with him all the vast power of the national administration concentrated on the politics of his native state disappeared. The Republican machine hardly had time to realize this loss before Hanna was stricken and the governing power of the party thereby dissipated. Then followed the nomination of Roosevelt, who never would have been nominated if Hanna had survived and who has no friends of consequence today among the men who have a guiding influence over the affairs of the Republican party in this state. Meanwhile Herrick distrusts Dick and Foraker entertains a supreme contempt for both, which they heartily reciprocate. There is no longer any unity in the Republican organization.

Democratic conditions have improved apparently in the same degree as the Republican have retrograded. The strongest men in the Democratic party today are united and enthusiastic for Parker and Davis, the state ticket and redemption of the party in localities where it has lost ground in the past four years.

It will be the policy of the Democratic managers in Ohio this year to have national issues with the speakers sent here by the national committee and to make an aggressive fight on state issues with the aid of a large number of effective native orators who will lend their assistance in the campaign. The records of the past two Ohio legislatures will not be overlooked, while imperialism, tariff reform and the trusts are being discussed from the rostrum. The Republicans will be put on the defensive at every turn and the abolishment of spring elections will be resented by thousands of voters when they tackle the big blanket ballot at the polls this fall.

SHOWS STEFFENS DOOR

Governor Herrick Orders Writer on Reform Matters from His Office.

Columbus Aug. 5.—Lincoln Steffens, the writer on state and municipal reform matters, was put out of the governor's office by Governor Herrick when he was here not long ago securing material for an article on Ohio. "Who is the real governor of Ohio?" was among the first question put to Governor Herrick when Steffens began his interview.

"What do you mean?" slowly asked the governor. "I know you were elected governor," continued Mr. Steffens, "but who really runs things here?"

"There is the door, sir," replied the governor indignantly. "I'll let you know I am running things here, anyhow. Good day sir."

J. N. AGAIN DYING.

New Lexington, Aug. 6.—A private letter received here says that J. N. Free, known the country over as the "Immortal J. N.," who is 76 years old, is dying.

BABIES

Born to Three Sisters in Different Town on the Same Day.

Hiawatha, Kan., August 6.—On a recent date a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Lichty of Morrill. They were surprised later to hear that a daughter was born the same day of Mr. and Mrs. James Stickle, of Paddonia, and even more surprised when they heard of the birth of a daughter on the same date to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dair at Salt Lake City. Mrs. Stickle, Mrs. Lichty and Mrs. Dair are sisters.

LABOR

Federation Votes to Aid the Eastern Textile Strikers.

Washington, August 6.—A majority of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor have voted to support the strike of the textile workers of Fall River, Mass. President Gompers of the federation, when the vote was recorded, set in motion the federation's plan of raising money to aid the strikers. Thirty-three men and women, identified with the labor movement and living in separate sections of the country, have been selected and when the federation's authorization reaches them, they will go out among the labor organizations to solicit contributions.

HYENAS

Escape from Train and the People are Badly Scared.

Erie, Pa., August 6.—While a circus train was passing over the Lake Shore railroad, two hyenas escaped one-half mile west of Girard this county. One was killed by the train. The other escaped about a mile east of Girard and is still at large and believed to be in the woods near where it left the train.

The animal is said to be one of the fiercest of its kind, and the farmers of that section are in a state of terror, as are also the residents of Miles Grove and Girard. A posse has been formed and will find and kill the brute if possible, before it can do any harm to horses, cattle or human beings.

SAWS HIDDEN IN BANANAS IT IS CLAIMED

Were Passed by Children Into Toledo Jail

For the Purpose of Assisting Other Youngsters to Break Out of Prison.

Toledo, Aug. 6.—Iva England, Kate Shannon, Albert Ball and Rose Dicker, none over 17, children of respected parents, were arrested today charged with an attempt to execute a jail delivery. The prisoners passed some saws concealed in bananas, it is claimed, to Howard Bennett, Orla Tunison and Clark Jordan, also children of respected parents, jailed and charged with the burglary of more than 20 houses in this city.

GRANVILLE

MRS. ZELLA DIXON ADDRESSES A MISSIONARY MEETING.

Tribute Paid to Mrs. Morris a Leading Missionary Worker—Personal Items from Granville.

Granville, O. Aug. 6.—The Foreign and Home Missionary Society of the Granville Baptist church held its regular meeting Friday afternoon on the campus of Shepardson college, with a large attendance, there being in the neighborhood of 75 women present. The talk by Mrs. Zella Allen Dixon was one of the interesting features of the afternoon. Her subject was "How Extremes Meet." Mrs. Dixon is a librarian at Chicago, and is thoroughly acquainted with all the branches of missionary work. Mrs. Dixon will always be given a hearty welcome in Granville.

A beautiful tribute was paid to Mrs. Morris, the great missionary worker, who has just died very suddenly. Mrs. Morris was at the head of the Chicago Training School for Missionaries. David Morris, a son of Mrs. Morris, was a student at Denison in the nineties.

A musical selection by Miss Howland and Mrs. Burton Case, closed the meeting. Punch was served during the afternoon. Quite a number of out-of-town guests were present. The next meeting will be held in September, when a farewell reception will be given Mrs. Ashmore, who joins her husband in China.

Mrs. M. H. Thornton of Columbus, who has been visiting friends and relatives here for the past week, returned home today.

Mrs. W. C. Tight and mother, Mrs. Guy, left today for a visit with friends in Zanesville.

The members of the Bird class are enjoying a pleasant picnic at Cat Run today.

Miss Nellie Smith has returned after a pleasant visit with friends in Johnstown.

Prof. and Mrs. Spencer have been spending a few days with friends in Zanesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robinson have returned from their wedding trip and are now at the home of Mr. Robinson's father, west of town. They were married in Columbus a few days ago.

TRAIN

Knocked Trolley Car Eighty Feet in Kansas City Today.

Kansas City, August 6.—A Santa Fe passenger train from Los Angeles to Chicago struck a Fifteenth street trolley car on a grade crossing today and knocked it eighty feet. J. O. Morris, of Pleasant Hill, was struck by the flying car and was killed. Eight persons were injured, seven of them badly. The latter all reside in Kansas City.

PARKER RESIGNS OFFICE OF JUDGE

Democracy's Choice for the Presidency Becomes the Untrammelled Candidate of His Party.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Alton B. Parker ceased to be chief judge of the Court of Appeals at 3:20 p. m. yesterday, and became the untrammelled candidate of the Democratic party for the president of the United States lacking only the formal notification of his nomination, which will take place at Rosemont Wednesday afternoon.

Without any advance announcement or intimation of his purpose, he came to Albany, took part with five of the other judges in clearing up practically all of the cases which had been argued before the court, and then sent a messenger to file his formal resignation in the office of the secretary of state as the Constitution and the public officers law requires.

Judge Parker's resignation was as follows:

* * * * *
Hon John F. O'Brien,
Secretary of State:
Sir: I hereby respectfully resign my office as chief judge of the court of appeals of the state of New York, such resignation to take effect immediately.

SEVEN CHILDEN DROWN IN RIVER AT ALTON, ILL.

While Bathing in Com- pany With Mr. Riley.

Little Girls By Clinging to the Man
Made Him Helpless to Save Them From Drowning.

Alton, Ill., August 6.—While bathing in the Mississippi last night Michael Riley, his daughter, and six of the latter's little girl friends were drowned. One child, in the party, was rescued.

His little daughter being to go with him and Riley took her and seven of her friends with him. When they entered the water, Riley bade the children join hands and they all walked along a sand bar.

Suddenly the whole party disappeared, having stepped from the sandbar into the channel.

The children screamed, fighting to reach the sandbar. Riley thought to have been made helpless by the girls clinging to him.

Riley was 32 years old, and the ages of the children drowned ranged from 8 to 14.

AN INTERVIEW WITH MR. EDW. H. EVERETT

Newark Manufacturer Says New Company's Plans Are Not Yet Formulated But That Newark Will Lose Nothing.

Mr. Edward H. Everett returned from New York Saturday morning, and went at once to the factory where a great deal of work demanding his personal attention had accumulated. He was soon very busily engaged, and it was at this time that an Advocate reporter called at the office. He gave his name and the paper he represented to a messenger, who found Mr. Everett out in the factory.

Even when engaged in multitudes of details E. H. Everett is never too busy to be courteous and sensible word that he would see the reporter in a few minutes. In less than five he returned to the office and asked the newsmen his mission. He was told that the people of Newark were very vitally interested in the fact the formation of the of the Ohio Bottle company, the incorporation of which was exclusively announced in The Advocate, would have on the local plant as regards any increase in its extent or equipment, as well as anything else he might have to say in regard to the syndicate.

"Well, there is really nothing to say at present, except what is in the incorporation papers. The new company has not yet elected officers nor has any definite plan for the conduct of its business yet been formulated. It will take time to arrange details for the management of a syndicate of this magnitude, and it is really impossible to say anything at this time for publication.

"As to the effect on the local plant, its size will not be decreased nor its output lessened."

BARON AND BARONESS HENGELMULLER VON HENGERVAR LEAVING THE AUSTRIAN EMBASSY.

One of Washington's most prominent diplomats is Baron Ladislaus Hengelmuller von Hengervar, the Austrian ambassador who has been stationed at the capital for nearly seven years. The baroness, who is a very popular entertainer, was Countess Marie Dunin-Borkowska before her marriage. The baron is a native of Hungary.

WILLIAM F. SHEEHAN, JUDGE PARKER'S INTIMATE FRIEND AND POLITICAL ADVISER.

"Blue Eyed Billy" Sheehan is much in the public eye just now as the intimate friend and adviser of Alton B. Parker. Mr. Sheehan was quite conspicuous in New York politics a number of years ago and was lieutenant governor of the Empire State. He was once a newsboy in Buffalo and is a self-made man. It was to Sheehan that the famous Parker telegram concerning the gold standard was sent.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. ROOSEVELT ON HIS SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

False and Dead Issues Against True and Living Issues.

TEN QUESTIONS FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

(New York World)

"We are content to stand or fall by the record which we have made and are making."—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

The paramount issue of this campaign is not, as you would have it, free trade or free silver, but YOU yourself—Theodore Roosevelt.

This issue is forced upon the country by your unusual temperament and talents—your own strong, able, ambitious, resourceful, militant, passionate personality, your versatility and surprising genius. As the French king said of the state, you can with greater truth say of the Republican party, "It is I." More absolutely than any of your predecessors in office ever did, you projected your own nomination. You dictated the platform. You edited the nominating speeches. You appointed the campaign manager. You moved your Cabinet officers like pawns, to meet the exigencies of your game of politics. By an act of Executive usurpation, you added many thousands of pensioners to a roll already containing a million names, in order to make votes for yourself—the first open use ever made of the National Treasury as a party's campaign chest.

You have glorified war and threatened the future peace of the country by proposing a bullying overlordship of the other countries in this hemisphere and offering to constitute the United States the Constable and Collector of Europe, in the rotten and irresponsible states of Central and South America.

You, have by your recommendations to Congress and your signature to its extravaganzas, increased the national expenditures during your term to more than $2,500,000,000—an excess of $211,000,000 over the expenditures during President McKinley's term (which includes the expenses of the war with Spain), and exceeding the cost of President Cleveland's second term by $880,000,000.

You and the Congress of your party have converted a surplus of $90,000,000 in 1900 into a deficit of more than $400,000,000 for the fiscal year just closed.

This extravagance is encouraged, and in fact made inevitable, by the high tariff and the policies of war and imperialism of which you are the most strenuous champion. The greater the revenue from customs the greater the temptation for lavish expenditures. The more colonies and dependencies we have, the greater the need of more warships, more fortifications, more coal stations, more soldiers. Every high protectionist is a jingo, and every jingo a high protectionist. These cardinal features of the Republican policy are interrelated and interdependent. They stand to each other in the relation of cause and effect.

In view of this surprising record of extravagance, it is perhaps not strange, but will be regarded by the taxpayers as significant, that the words, "economy," "retrenchment" and "reform," once the rule of the nation and the shibboleth of statesmen, do not appear in your entire speech of acceptance—NOT ONCE!

You say in your speech of acceptance that "prosperity has come at home." Are there not many thousands of workmen who have "great reason to feel that prosperity is departing"? Does the army of striking cotton operatives, whose wages have been reduced 22-1/2 per cent since 1900, find that "wages are higher than ever before"? Do the tens of thousands of employees dismissed by your great railway systems share your rosy view? Are the participants in the victims of the strike against the exactions of the Beef Trust throwing up their hats over the "full dinner-pail"?

Deserting your early convictions in favor of a free trade, you cultivate the monopolistic campaign contributors of your party by "standing pat" for a tariff higher in its average duty than the highest schedules of the war time—a tariff which the Republicans of Iowa have declared to be a "shelter to monopoly," which the Republicans of Wisconsin demand shall be revised in the interest of consumers, and which tens of thousands of Republicans in Massachusetts and elsewhere insist shall be modified by a reciprocity treaty with Canada.

The principle of protection has been maintained by every party that has held power in this country since the adoption of the Constitution, including the administrations of eight Democratic Presidents. Representative Clark, Chairman of the St. Louis convention, truly said that "the Democratic party is not a free-trade party." Protection, however necessary under some conditions, is both needless and unjust when infant industries have become horrid monopolies. It is especially oppressive and exasperating when perverted to enable favored manufacturers to maintain arbitrary high prices in the home market while underselling foreign competitors in the markets of the world.

The free coinage of silver, which was the decisive issue in the last two elections, is no longer a living question though there are indications in your speech that you will seek to revive it. The overwhelming verdict of the people, regardless of party, in the last two elections; the law of 1900 re-establishing the gold standard; the enormous increase in the world's production of gold; the fact that no party and no public man of importance, not even Mr. Bryan, is now advocating free silver; and, beyond all, the declaration of your opponent, Judge Parker, that he regards the gold standard as "firmly and irrevocably established"—a declaration unreservedly accepted by the St. Louis convention by a vote of 774 to 191—afford cumulative proof that the silver issue is dead and buried past resurrection.

You boast that your policy is "to do fair and equal justice to all men—rich or poor." Can it be maintained that a tariff law which enables favored manufacturers, in return for big campaign contributions, to levy tribute on the whole body of the people, is an example of "fair and equal justice"? Who represents anti-monopoly and the rights of labor in your Cabinet? Is it Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, the banker, who preaches that high prices are a blessing?—or Attorney General Moody, who has not lifted a finger to enforce the anti-trust laws?—or Secretary of the Navy Morton, lately a Vice President of the Santa Fe Railroad, an ally of the Beef Trust?—or Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, a political representative of the Southern Pacific Railroad?—or Postmaster General Payne, long the legislative and lobby agent of railroad and other corporations?

Do these acts of yours give very strong backing to your words asserting equal regard for all classes? You say of the "great organizations known as trusts," that "we do not have to explain why the laws against them were not enforced, but to point out that they actually have been enforced." This will be news indeed to the victims of the unpunished and unhindered Beef Trust and the other "conspiracies in restraint of trade" which continue to stifle competition and to rob consumers in defiance of law.

Far worse than this political partnership with trusts under the tariff is the blow which you dealt to public confidence in the sincerity of your opposition to monopoly by the changes in your Cabinet on the eve of your personal campaign for election to the Presidency.

The political removal of Attorney General Knox, just as he had demonstrated in one notable instance his ability to enforce the law against combining corporations, after all previous Attorneys General of both parties had failed, was a shocking submission to the plutocratic power which, with admirable courage you successfully challenged in the Northern Securities case. But the transfer of Secretary Cortelyou from the head of the Department of Commerce—created as the law declares, to make "diligent investigation" of the affairs of corporations, and, as your platform says, to secure "reasonable publicity to their operations"—to the Chairmanship of your Campaign Committee, has all the appearance of deliberate preparation for partisan blackmail of the very corporations that were to be investigated.

Mr. Cortelyou, formerly your private secretary, was at the head of the Department of Commerce just long enough to acquire by "diligent investigation" such information as would be useful to the filler of your campaign chest. The public does not share this information. There is no evidence that the law officers of the Government are making use of it to suppress and punish such odious and oppressive monopolies as the Beef Trust—which controls the greater portion of the meat supply of 80,000,000 people. But ex-private and ex-public Secretary Cortelyou—Chairman Cortelyou of your Campaign Committee—no doubt knows all that the law enabled him to learn of the inner workings of the potential campaign contributors!

What, save a consuming ambition to be elected President in your own right, could have led you to shift your successful trust prosecutor to Quay's place as a trust agent in the Senate, and to convert your confidential private secretary and trust investigator into a campaign trust fat-fryer, in place of Mark Hanna, deceased?

You boast that "never has the administration of the Government been on a cleaner and higher level." We appeal to all honest men whether in the annals of our Government there was ever a grosser abuse of power, a greater public scandal or a more unprincipled defiance of decent public opinion than is this transfer of an official investigator and curber of great corporations to be a collector of campaign funds from them!

You say that you "earnestly desire friendship with all the nations of the New and Old World," and that you think "peace is right as well as advantageous." Can you wonder that the people find it hard to recognize in these pacific utterances the Roosevelt they have known hitherto? A short time ago, in urging the creation of an ever larger navy, the advice you gave for the guidance of the nation was: "Speak softly, but carry a big stick." Is the man who habitually does this generally "seeking peace"? Do you think that the other nations of the New World thought that you, as President of this Republic, really "desired peace and friendship" with them when you wrote in your letter to the Cuban dinner?

"Any country whose people conduct themselves well can count upon our hearty friendliness. If a nation shows that it knows how to act with decency in industrial and political matters, if it keeps order and pays its obligations, then it need fear no interference from the United States. Brutal wrong-doing or an impotence which results in the general loosening of ties of civilized society may finally require intervention by some civilized nation, and in the Western Hemisphere the United States cannot ignore ITS DUTY."

Is not this unmistakably a threat that if any of the republics of Central or South America fails to "act with decency"—you being the judge—or if it fails to "keep order and pay its obligations" (as some of the States of our Union have failed to pay), it "need fear no interference from the United States," but that if any or all of these states fail to live up to your standard of order and morality, "civilized society may finally require intervention." In other words, you propose that you, as President of the United States, shall constitute yourself the Supervisor and Sponsor of all the turbulent, chronically revolutionary, bankrupt sham republics of the Western Hemisphere, and will undertake to make them "act with decency" and pay their debts to the bondholders, speculators and usurers of Europe!

Can even the widest imagination conceive a more grotesque, preposterous and dangerous perversion of the Monroe doctrine than is contained in this extraordinary proposition? It combines the humbug of Barnum with the hypocrisy of Urah Heep—and all to prove, as you say in your speech, that the non-interference doctrine of James Monroe is "a living reality!"

If there could be devised a more effective perpetual invitation to war and trouble than this policy holds out, the imagination of diplomatists and the combative instinct of soldiers looking for a fight have not yet conceived it.

Can you wonder that the conservative business men of the country, who above all need stability and security in their affairs, want a President in the White House whose temperament, training and character will enable them to go to sleep at night without fear of waking on any morning and learning from startling headlines in the newspapers that the President has dispatched warships to Turkey, Morocco, Venezuela, China or where not on insufficient information or with impossible demands—or has been cabling buncombe messages that he wants "Terdicris alive or Raisuli dead," or ordering some of our Southern neighbors to "act decently" and "pay their debts?"

These being the results, the tendencies and the dangers of your Administration and your policy, are we not right in saying that the paramount issue of the election is whether you, Mr. President, shall have a vote of approval, confidence and encouragement to go on in the course you have marked out? You would have the right to accept your election as a warrant from the people to continue, to increase and to intensify the Executive acts which have amazed and alarmed the friends of peaceful, lawful and safe administration.

Our faith in the intelligence, the common sense and the conscience of the American people is too great to believe that they will give a commission for four years in his own name to the chance pilot who is now leading the ship of state toward the rocks upon which other republics have been wrecked—reiterated usurpations by the Executive, warlike adventures for gain and glory; contempt for law; privileged classes sustained by election bribes; corruption in high places; and extravagant expenditures from unjust taxes. Honor and prudence alike require a change of pilots and a return to the chart of the Constitution, to the rule of law and the flag of a peace-loving republic.

Not for the Democratic party but for democratic institutions is this written. Not against the Republican party, but for the Republic. Not in the interest of office-seekers against office-holders, but in the spirit of independent thought and action, inspired by a common desire for the public good, which has led to the extraordinary and most significant union in opposition to your candidacy of all the independent journals of the metropolis that advocated the election of Mr. McKinley in 1896.

THE TEN LIVING QUESTIONS.

The real, living, burning questions of the campaign are:

I—Rough Rider or Judge?

Shall the people of the United States have for the next four years a Personal or a Constitutional government—the sovereignty of a party dictator or the sovereignty of the people—a Rough Rider or a Judge for Chief Magistrate?

II—Reform and Tariff.

Shall the tariff never be revised except with the consent and under the direction of its beneficiaries—by "the friends of its abuse"—its extortions and its discrimination?—or shall it be revised in a judicial spirit by "the friends of the masses and for the common weal?"

III—Curb the Trusts.

Shall monopolies, like the Beef Trust, controlling universal necessities of life, continue to receive the protection of a sheltering tariff and enjoy still longer indulgence in the non-enforcement of anti-trust laws, by reason of their enormous contributions to party campaign funds and their potential influence with party leaders?

IV—The Abuse of Power.

Shall the action of the President in ridding himself of the one successful trust prosecutor in order to placate the corporation—in making his former private secretary and head of the Department of Commerce a campaign fund solicitor from the very corporations he was appointed to "diligently investigate"—in appointing a railroad corporation official Secretary of the Navy, and a political agent of the Southern Pacific Railway to the head of the department to supervise and curb corporations (all to aid his own campaign)? Shall this "surrender of the Rough Rider" be approved by the people?

V—No Corporation Rule.

Shall the rule of corrupt corporations in politics and their controlling influence in government be further enlarged and confirmed by continuing in power a party closely allied with them by the granting of special privileges in the tariff, by the election of corporation agents to Congress and to State offices, and through the reconstruction of the Cabinet to meet their views?

VI—Stop the Extravagance.

Shall we continue a policy of reckless extravagance, as evidenced by the expenditure of more than $2,500,000,000 during the last four years, or shall we return to a reasonable economy?

VII—Check the Corruption.

Shall corruption, bred of too long a lease of power, as instanced in the half-disclosed postal frauds, in the land-office scandals, in the pension abuses, in the sale of offices and negotiation of corrupt public contracts by Senators Dietrich and Burton, in the purchase of a seat in the Senate by the Democrat W. A. Clark ratified by the Republican Senate, and in the tendency and Executive recognition of notorious corruptors and professional spoliators, be condoned and continued?

VIII—No "Big Stick" Bluster.

Shall the attitude of the United States toward foreign nations be that of a bully with a "big stick," and a ship on his shoulder, or shall we return to the policy of Washington and Jefferson—"Peace and friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none"—leaving our own business and expecting other nations to do the same?

IX—What Will the Filipinos Do to Us?

Shall we continue the malevolent effect upon our policy of so-called "benevolent assimilation" in the Philippines, until it is too late to withdraw from that deplorable and un-American venture in Asiatic colonialism? Shall we accept the more dangerous the more we impose upon them the veneer of our civilization—and until the hybrid and forever alien races of those islands shall be incorporated into our body politic, to cast the die in our National Conventions, as the delegate from Hawaii did at Kansas City in 1900; to participate in our elections, to sit in our Congress and eventually to vote on those who now by force impose upon them government without consent and taxation without representation?

"Let Us Have Peace."

Shall we, forty years after the end of the war and after a complete reconciliation of the once hostile States, endeavor to revive the sectional issues the friends of the Union and concord—and this when the people of the South have just secured the nomination of a conservative and sound-money Democrat for President, and have elected a respected member of the strongest national and patriotic feelings?

A REPUTATION SAVED

(Original.)

Not the martial music, dress parade, guard mounting, indeed, any or all the fascinating attendants of military life, can relieve the tedium that comes over a remote post when the inmates have once seen enough of one another. So thought pretty Mrs. Gessnor, the young wife of Lieutenant Earl Gessnor, and when it was announced that her husband's chum at West Point was coming to join them she was greatly pleased.

For a week after White's arrival he and his friend Gessnor were inseparable; then Gessnor was ordered away on a special duty to be gone several weeks. He told White that his wife, who was city bred, found it dull at the post and charged him to keep her in spirits.

White began by acceding to his friend's request, but soon discovered that Mrs. Gessnor was being carried off her feet in a mad passion for him. Reserve, even hauteur, on his part availed nothing to check her. To avoid trouble he secured an order temporarily taking him away from the post.

One morning he rode away on horseback. Mrs. Gessnor called for her horse and rode after him to bring him back. Whether her recklessness had suddenly become apparent to her and she feared his absence might attract attention to her folly or whether she could not endure his ill opinion, she did not know herself. She was shooting like a shuttle from one emotion to another.

There was at the post a Mrs. Major Walsh, who had long known and looked upon Lieutenant White with covetous eyes. It so happened that on the morning of White's departure Mrs. Walsh was being driven by an orderly in a hack on the road he had taken, and she suddenly came upon him pleading with Mrs. Gessnor, who sat in the saddle irresolute. That threw the winning cards into the hands of Mrs. Walsh. Conscious of her advantage she was in no haste. She waited until Gessnor had returned and White had returned, then opened a distressing fire on White.

White was no fool. Moreover, he had a cool head. The problem before him was to save Mrs. Gessnor from the consequences of her rashness, himself from the charge of taking advantage of a brother officer through his wife and to save the friendship existing between himself and Gessnor. This problem he considered for hours, and it seemed to him that every move he might make must be in the wrong direction. However, he formed a plan and set about putting it into operation. He convinced Mrs. Walsh that he was not in love with her rival, but was in love with her. It is not difficult for us to believe what we want to believe, and the first part of the proposition was as true as the latter part was false. Mrs. Gessnor was much liked by the ladies of the post and was above suspicion, while Mrs. Walsh was neither liked nor trusted. So far so good.

But White could not long be devoted to the latter. He must find means at once to spike the gun with which she would kill Mrs. Gessnor. There was also an enemy in his rear in Mrs. Gessnor, who, despite her perilous position, could not bear to see the man she adored devoted to her enemy. He had two women to manage, both of whom were in love with him and either of whom was liable to commit barbarism to injure the other.

One night the officers of the post got up a masquerade. It was in the warm season and there was to be dancing on the parade as well as in the officers' mess hall. The weather was superb and the moon at the full. No fancy costumes could be procured at an army post, far from civilization, so the ladies made up a number of dominoes of different colors which were to be used instead.

During the festivities Lieutenant Gessnor noticed a masculine figure in a red domino go out into the open. At the same time a figure in a white domino slipped up beside Gessnor and whispered, "Watch the red."

Gessnor followed the couple out on to the veranda and on to the parade. There they danced in a set that was forming as they arrived, after which they strolled about, getting farther and farther from the masqueraders till they reached a clump of trees back of the officers' quarters and sat down on a rustic bench.

Though the couple were in shadow Gessnor could see them plainly from a distance. Suddenly he saw the man take the woman in his arms and raise her mask for a kiss. Infuriated, Gessnor rushed forward, tore off the woman's mask and revealed—Mrs. Major Walsh.

Gessnor, declining to look into the identity of the man, turned on his heel and left them.

Such was the result of Lieutenant White's plot. He had learned the color of Mrs. Walsh's domino, then instructed Mrs. Gessnor to tell her husband, that she would wear a red one herself, but to put on a white one instead. It was Mrs. Gessnor who had whispered the words in her husband's ear. They had compromised her enemy and rescued her from peril.

The next day White at his own request received an order from the commandant to report at Washington, where he was assigned to duty. Both Mrs. Gessnor and Mrs. Walsh bore an unblemished reputation so far as Lieutenant White was concerned, but the garrison was surprised at Mrs. Walsh's departure, soon after White's going, for San Francisco, where her husband afterward joined her, reporting for duty at a post near by.

MARY COOLIDGE.

POOR BENSON.

He's Sorry Now That He Mentioned the Ham at All.

Mr. Benson declares that hereafter he is going to tell the straight truth, no matter how badly it may hurt the other fellow. That is a form of cruelty from which Benson hitherto has thoughtfully refrained. His wife has benefited most frequently by his considerate repression of facts. Indeed so careful has Benson always been of her feelings that he has not only withheld facts, but even has been known to substitute a positive untruth just to keep her from feeling badly. That was what he did just before she went to Boston. The morning she went away Mrs. Benson took Benson into the kitchen and showed him the ice box.

"I know," she said, "how you dislike eating in restaurants, so I have left enough provisions cooked to last you for several days. Here are cakes, preserved fruits, salads and a boiled ham. You can make your own coffee and by boiling potatoes whenever you feel hungry for then you will be spared the horror of restaurant fare for at least a week."

Benson surveyed his well stocked commissariat with pangs of incipient dyspepsia. The prospect of dining alone on cold viands and boiled potatoes offered but few more attractions than a course in public eating houses, but his habitual regard for Mrs. Benson's feelings prevented his saying so. On the contrary, he thanked her effusively for her tender thoughtfulness.

"That ham," said he, "looks particularly fine. I am anxious to get at it now. I shall step a foot inside of a restaurant so long as there is a scrap of it left."

Mrs. Benson beamed with the happiness of the well deed whose deeds of kindness are appreciated by the recipient.

"I thought you would like it," she said.

The next day when writing from Boston Mrs. Benson appended a postscript to her six page letter.

"How is the ham?" she asked.

In reply to this query Benson wrote:

"The ham is delicious. I eat it for breakfast and for dinner. Yesterday I happened to be in this neighborhood at lunch time, and—will you believe me—I couldn't bear to go down town again without a bite of that ham, so I came in and had a snack. You were a trump to leave me so well provided for."

In her next letter Mrs. Benson asked,

"Have you any ham left?"

Thenceforward Benson forwarded to Boston daily bulletins of the state of the ham market. For the most part this information was conveyed in letters and postal cards, but on the tenth day he rushed into telegraphic activity. That morning he had dumped four-fifths of the ham into the garbage can, so he wired, with a strict regard for truth:

"The ham is gone."

On the twelfth day after Mrs. Benson's departure Benson received an express package from Boston. Wonderingly he paid the charges of 75 cents and wonderingly he unwrapped the box.

"For the love of heaven!" groaned Benson, and resolved thenceforward to stick valiantly by the truth.

Mrs. Benson had sent him another ham.—New York Press.

Just Like A Woman.

Mrs. Scribner (impressively)—Whatever you do, never marry a newspaper man.

School Chum—Why not?—
"I married one, and I know. Every night my husband brings home a big bundle of newspapers from all over the country, and they almost drive me crazy."

"The newspapers?"
"Indeed they do. They are just crammed with the most astonishing bargains in stores a thousand miles away."

A Light Reason.

"Why are you so happy, old man?"

"Pay raised?"

"None."

"Wife away?"

"None."

"On your vacation?"

"None."

"Then why so joyful?"

"I just got my gas bill and it's only half what I expected."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A solemn duty which we owe society, our children and our-

SUDDEN

WAS THE DEATH OF MRS. PHIL. B.
SMYTHE FRIDAY MORNING.

While She Had Not Been Well For Several Days Illness Was Not Regarded as Serious.

Mrs. Addie Smythe, wife of City Solicitor Phil B. Smythe, died very suddenly at her home, 45 West Main street, about 5:30 o'clock Friday evening of acute sciatic rheumatism which struck her heart without a moment's warning.

Mrs. Smythe had not been in the best of health for two or three days, but was not confined to her bed and no serious consequences were thought of, in connection with her illness which had been diagnosed by two physicians as sciatic rheumatism.

On Friday she felt much better, and in the evening about 4:30 her father-in-law, Attorney B. G. Smythe, asked her if she would like to take a short ride. She replied that as that day was the ninth anniversary of her marriage and she had not been well enough to prepare a celebration, Phil and she had arranged to have a supper prepared at Schaller's restaurant to be brought to their rooms, and she did not believe she could go.

The elder Mr. Smythe then left and with his wife took a street car ride going to the park, then to the Children's Home and back to the square, where the stocking intelligence was conveyed to him that his son's wife had just died.

Mr. Charles Schaller brought the supper in, and began to spread it upon the table, but Mrs. Smythe insisted on doing this work herself, so Mr.
Schaller left. Phil followed him into the hall and to the head of the steps, where he paid for the supper and Mr. Schaller left. Mr. Smythe returned down the hallway when he heard his wife scream and call his name, and just as he entered the room she fell to the floor and in a few moments expired without a struggle.

The deceased was Miss Addie Slick, daughter of the late Philip Slick, of near Cottage Hill, Muskingum county, who died about two years ago. She was aged 30, and leaves a mother;
two brothers, Judson and Basil Slick, three sisters, Mrs. Emma Durkin, of Lafayette, Mrs. Susan Brooks, of Newark, and Miss Clara, who lives at home.

Mrs. Smythe was in every respect a most magnificent woman. She was endowed with strong mental powers,
a disposition and the firm capabilities to make a home, which she loved. Her devotion to her husband, and to all the manifold duties of her useful life, were qualities which were noted by her acquaintances, and endeared her to a large circle of friends.

In every sphere of her usefulness
Mrs. Smythe was never found wanting in one jot or tittle of her duty, and her life can, and undoubtedly will be an inspiration to all who were fortunate enough to call her friend.

The funeral will take place from the home of B. G. Smythe, on North Fourth street, at 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. C. Schindler conducting the services.

"MURDER"

Was the Cry Which Aroused Fifth Street Residents Early Saturday Morning.

Two alleged rivals for the favors of a young woman, met on West Main street early Saturday morning, and a fight followed, or rather a pursuit race, as one of them after a blow or two had been struck, ran on Fifth street between Main and Church, yelling
"murder" at the top of his voice. All the inhabitants of that vicinity were aroused by the blood-curdling shrieks.
No one was badly hurt.

HOME COMING

OF FORMER NEWARK PEOPLE ON LABOR DAY.

Newark Trades and Labor Council
Proposes Home Coming Day
For September 5.

The general Labor Day committee of the Newark Trades and Labor Council will make an effort to have Labor Day, Monday, September 5, also a Home-coming day for former residents of Newark and Licking county.
The idea has met with favor among the members, and the business men of the city, and should form one of the attractive features of a day which the Trades and Labor Council already propos to make a memorable one.
There are hundreds of families of former Newark people residing in Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Pittsburg and other surrounding towns, whose members look back with fond memories of happy days years ago in Newark, and scores of friends who have also left the old town but would return on such a day.

The program of the day includes a monster trades and industrial parade;
local sports, band concerts day and evening; balloon ascension and parachute drop by Prof. D. H. Gillespie; high wire, bicycle and trapeze performances by the famous Melroises;
speaking by labor leaders of national reputation; fireworks and a grand ball at Brennan's Hall in the evening.
All these attractions will be produced in the heart of the city.

There will be a meeting of all Labor Day committees at Labor Hall at 10 o'clock, sharp, tomorrow morning.

Receiver's Report.

Receiver Stasel, of the Savings bank, will make his report to the court
August 11.

PROBATED

IS THE WILL OF THE LATE MR. W.
G. TAAFEL.

Deceased Had $8,000 Life Insurance
But Part of This May Be Forfeited.

The will of W. G. Taafel, late receiver of the Newark Savings bank, has been admitted to probate, and E. L.
Weisberger, his father-in-law, has been appointed executor. The deceased in his will bequeaths to his wife, Elizabeth J. Taafel, all his possessions, consisting of 238 shares of stock in the Citizens' Electric Light and Power company, his residence, No. 406 on East Main street, and three houses east of First street, held by deed conveyed to him. Also his insurance, consisting of $3,000 in the Masonic Insurance company, $2,000 in the New York Life Insurance company; $2,000 in the New York Mutual and all other insurance held by him; also $500 stock in the Newark Savings bank, paid up. He specifies that all his debts be paid.

It was said that one insurance policy of $3,000 will not be paid as the policy is said to contain a forfeiting clause in case of suicide. On the other hand, it is claimed that the courts have decided that an insurance company can not enforce that forfeiting clause.

A QUART OF MILK

anda package of JELL-O ICE CREAM POWDER

The Chicago Tribune, the leading Republican paper of that city, has not a word of fault to find with the Democratic nominee for president and vice president. When the Tribune speaks of them it is with the highest respect for their ability and of their statesmanship and patriotism.

Business men, generally speaking, are very much afraid of Teddy Roosevelt. The business men, the independent press of the country are against Mr. Roosevelt in this campaign. They prefer safety to danger; peace rather than war; prosperity rather than adversity. It is this class of individuals who have the votes to control the elections.

Time was when Mr. Roosevelt made great pretensions as a reformer. He wanted to reform everything—even many things which did not need reforming. High political ideals was his battle cry. But his subsequent course has shown that it was all sham. There seems to have been no sincere conviction. In order to secure the privilege of dictating to his party, he not only assents to, but lauds the worst things for which the machine bosses of the party stand.

Judge Parker has tendered his resignation to the governor of New York, and it will take effect in time for the vacancy thus created on the bench to be filled at the coming election. In doing this Judge Parker simply follows the strict line of conduct he has marked out for himself, and demonstrates anew that the Democratic party has nominated a man of high ideals and the courage to live up to them. Judge Parker believes that it is incompatible with the dignity and non-political character of the bench for a man wearing the ermine to en-

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia.
It makes life miserable.
Its sufferers eat not because they want to, but simply because they must.
They know they are irritable and fretful, but they cannot be otherwise.
They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.
The effective remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is place in political strife. Rather than retain the place, reserving, as it were, a position in the event of the election resulting in his defeat, he resigns and becomes an independent citizen.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says:

The expense of the government have been steadily growing at an enormous rate. The congressional appropriations during the first administration of Mr. Cleveland amounted to $868,037,675. During the Harrison administration they were $1,217,331,537. In the second Cleveland administration they were built up to $1,269,478,606. Then came McKinley's administration, with $1,906,131,611. The Roosevelt administration has leaped greatly over the two billion mark and produces the record of $2,449,228,545.

All of which is very true. And goodness knows how much greater the expenditures if the present dictator in the White House should be given free rein for four years more.

THE DIFFERENCE.

(N. Y. Herald, Ind.)

"Mr. Roosevelt represents Imperialism. Judge Parker represents Democracy as it was understood by our forefathers, the signers of the Declaration of Independence, as it was understood by the men who fought for that independence and as it should be understood by us who have inherited that independence."

THE NEWARK FRATERNITIES

Modern Woodmen of America.

Cedar Camp, No. 172, last Wednesday evening held a rousing meeting with 310 present, and several applications were presented and ballotted on. There were ten candidates present and they were initiated by the degree team and the efficient officers of Cedar Camp. Eighty members, officers and degree teams came over from Columbus to witness the work of this camp, and went home with new ideas and loud praises for the work as put on here.

After the work a smoker was given the visitors and a general good time had.

Cedar Camp will charter a car to return the visit on the night of the 18th of August.

Since last meeting Cedar Camp lost one of its members in the death of A. M. Ryan, by drowning.

The I. O. F.

Whereas—God, the supreme ruler of all in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst by the hand of death, Brother Harry Handel.

Whereas, Brother Handel's life and character as a member of this order and as a citizen of this community deserves to be suitably commemorated.

Be it resolved by Court Licking, 1318 Independent Order of Foresters, that while we regret and deplore the untimely removal hence of our brother and companion by the infinite power and providence that moves in mysterious ways His wonders to perform, we are humbly, yet, sorrowfully, resigned to the decree of the infinite in our belief that he doeth all things for the best and that it is appointed unto all men once to die, and for the loss of our brother we have profound regret and sorrow and to those with whom he lived and loved, and especially to his sorrowing widow we send a message of love and sympathy.

A. O. U. W.

Golden Rod Lodge will hold its annual picnic at Idlewild Park on Friday Aug. 19. Nearly all the arrangements have been completed to make this a red letter day event in lodge annals and it is hoped that all members of Golden Rod Lodge will be present at the next meeting to discuss the plans and transact some important business in reference to this picnic. The picnic committee was very fortunate in securing a ball game between Zanesville and Idlewild at this picnic, which in itself will prove a very strong attraction. A motor cycle race will also be a leading feature of the day and other events to be pulled off will make this a day of interest and pleasure to all. Large delegations will be here from Zanesville, Columbus, Bucyrus, Marion and Toledo. A big time is looked for on A. O. U. W. day, Aug. 19.

Masonic.

A stated communication of Acme lodge, No. 554, will be held on Thursday night, when there will be work in the degrees.

A special meeting of Warren chapter, No. 6, R. A. M., will be held on Monday night for work in the Royal Arch degree.

Knights of Pythias.

There will be something doing at the next meeting of Roland lodge, Knights of Pythias. The members will have to attend in order to find out what this important business is.

The Camels.

The special meeting of Monarch lodge, No. 66, held Thursday night was largely attended, and resulted in arrangements for one of the biggest picnics ever seen in Newark. Committees were appointed at follows: Amusement committee, Rees R. Jones, chairman; George Hogufe, C. W. Parshall, Charles Burbauer, Jos. Moser, printing and program committee, R. F. Williams, chairman; W. L. Palmer, James Parkinson; baseball committee, H. A. Bailey, chairman; James Shaw, James Lannigan, James Moser, J. W. Rutledge; ticket committee, J. W. Rutledge, chairman; gate committee, Dr. J. G. Shirer, chairman; badge committee, J. A. Seward, chairman; prize committee, J. W. Rutledge, Dr. J. G. Shirer.

Dr. C. B. Kellar who was sent by Monarch lodge to Zanesville Thursday evening to carry an invitation to Alpha lodge of Camels in that place. Invitations will also be extended to the lodges of Coshocton, Shawnee, Mansfield, Glouster, Nelsonville, Byes-ville and other surrounding towns and large delegations from each place are expected.

Among the many attractions to be offered will be two ball games, minstrel show, prize bicycle, horse, wheelbarrow, sack and running races and numerous other track events which will be arranged for.

Every body is invited to bring their baskets and come to Idlewild park on that day and make this one of the biggest and best picnics ever held in Newark.

Dr. C. B. Kellar who was sent to Zanesville by Monarch lodge to carry an invitation to Alpha lodge, No. 45, M. O. C., reports a great deal of enthusiasm manifested and says that fully 400 people will come up from Zanesville over the interurban road.

Odd Fellows.

At the last meeting of Myrtle Lodge of Odd Fellows of Granville, the following officers were installed by District Deputy Grand Marshal Henry Weish:

Noble Grand—Charles Harbison.
Vice Noble Grand—Fred Williams.
R. S. to N. G.—John Smith.
L. S. to N. G.—Dr. King.

The U. A. O. of D.

At the last meeting of Grove 14 of the Druids, five applications for membership were received and will be acted on at the next regular meeting. There was a large attendance and the grove is prospering financially.

The grove had a grand and successful picnic last Sunday.

Grand Noble Arch, Thomas of Dayton, inspected the books of the grove and found them correct. Every member is expected to attend at the next meeting to consider and ballot on the new applications.

K. O. T. M.

Octagon Tent held a regular review on Friday evening, quite a good number of knights being present. D. S. H. McCleery, who was a delegate from this district, to the tenth triennial convention of Macabees held in Detroit, was present and addressed the members concerning the work done at this convention. It was unanimously decided to invite Former Great Record Keeper Ed. L. Young, but now Great Commander by appointment, to be present at a future meeting. At this time it is expected to have the work of the convention more fully explained, an announcement of which will appear later.

A. P. U.

A largely attended and enthusiastic session of Newark council No. 1, was held Thursday evening. Four new applications were received. The utmost good feeling prevailed and the merging of the American Protective union with the American Insurance union was freely and frankly discussed. The American Insurance union was represented by Dr. George W. Hoglan, National secretary, and C. C. Hosenbeck, National editor, who congratulated the American Protective union upon its splendid and successful sick and accident plan of insurance which now by the merger becomes a new department of the American Insurance union. Newark council, by a practically unanimous vote ratified the consolidation of the two organizations and thanked the supreme officers for their interest and success in the movement. Next, Thursday's session will be a "red letter" occasion. The A. I. U. degree team of Columbus, numbering sixty members will give a public exhibition of the degree work.

The A. O. H.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will be held at Youngstown next week, August 9, 10 and 11. The local division will attend and it is expected that many of the members will make arrangements to go. The National convention was held in St. Louis two weeks ago, at which James E. Dolan was re-elected National president. James T. Carroll of Columbus was elected National secretary and will make that city the headquarters for the transaction of National business.

The matter of National and State insurance, now governed by each state organization, was referred to a committee to report at the next National convention, as well as the building of a national home aged and infirm Hibernians.

The convention was the most enthusiastic in the history of the order. M. J. Barry of Columbus, a frequent visitor to Newark, and who has many friends in this city, is a candidate for the office of State president next week. Local division No. 1, has unanimously endorsed Michael J. Barry for the position. Mr. Barry has for the past two decades taken an active part in maintaining and upbuilding the principles of the order. Brother Barry is 44 years of age; born in Ireland and a member of the A. O. H. since he became of age. He was county president of Franklin county four years and has held various offices in his division for many years past. The Capital City has several divisions and over 62 counties in the state have endorsed Mr. Barry and his election is practically assured.

The health of the Newark division is good, the membership constantly growing and the order is doing good for the Irish race and Christianity.

A CASE OF IT.

Many More Like It in Newark.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Newark. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Mrs. George Graff of 25 Spencer street says: "I had a terrible bad back which successfully resisted all efforts in the way of medicines and porous plasters to relieve it. It was just across the loins where the greatest strain falls so that I could not get up when I was down. I awakened in the morning scarcely able to shift my body. As I moved about at my household work I was often in actual torture. For three months I suffered all the time until one day a neighbor gave me a few doses of Loam's Kidney Pills. I took them and the benefit was so apparent I sent down to Crayton's drug store and procured a box. Before very long I discarded the plasters, the kidney secretions looked clear and natural and had not a pain in my head and back."

Free Wine

We want to send you FREE, costing you absolutely nothing, a trial bottle of "Drake's Palmetto Wine." Drop us a postal and it comes a-buzzing. You know that "back ache" and "bible timespeople took wine" for the stomach's sake. But the modern grape wine is not good either for stomach, brain or pocket. Drake's Palmetto Wine is vastly different. It comes pushing from the palm-fruit of our own sunny South. It is a superb appetizer, tonic and nerve-bracer. It cleans and purifies the blood and thus feeds brain and brawn. It builds up athletes and nourishes thinkers.

Drake's Palmetto Wine is also a natural medicine. It is a wonderful food for constitution, gallbladder and all dyspeptic troubles. It positively heals catarrh of nose, throat, stomach or bowels. It regulates perfectly the liver, kidneys and bladder. For women it is a true God-send. A tablespoon dose daily cures all those troubles. The wine has a rich, appetizing smack and piques you up instantly. We Prove all This by Sending You a Free Trial Bottle on Request.

ORAKE FORMULA COMPANY, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

READERS TAKE NOTICE—"Drake's Palmetto Wine" is 75 cents at drug stores for a large bottle—usual dollar size—but a trial bottle is sent to you free and prepaid if you write for it. Sold at Hall's Drug Store, Newark, O.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Hair-Preparation.

The Jackson, Ohio, Herald published an extended notice of the wedding of Mr. Walter Swartz of this city, and Miss Lulu Snyder of Jackson, on August 1. The paper says:

"A very pretty wedding occurred on Tuesday morning at Holy Trinity church when Miss Lulu Snyder and Mr. Walter Swartz were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder and the groom a promising young business man of Newark, Ohio, both are well and favorably known and have many friends in Jackson.

The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock, the affair being quiet on account of the recent death of Mr. Swartz's sister. The bride was handsomely in white tulle and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

"After the ceremony, the party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where an elegant wedding breakfast was served. The diningroom was festooned with garlands of ferns and roses and the tables were beautifully decorated with roses and carnations.

"The young couple will visit in Jack-

WHISKEY STRAIGHT FROM UNCLE SAM'S HANDS.

Why and How the Government Guarantees the Age and Purity

OF EDGEWOOD BOTTLED IN BOND.

Congress Comes to the Rescue of Consumers Who Want a Really Pure, Good, Old Whiskey.

It is a notorious fact that the consumption of crude spirits, masquerading as whiskey, is injurious to health. Doctors frequently recommend whiskey taken in moderation as a wholesome beverage, medicinally valuable; but what they intend to prescribe is, of course, a pure, well-matured whiskey and not a more or less injurious imitation of the genuine article.

DOESN'T SEEM FAIR.

United States Internal Revenue Collector Bernard Bettmann, in an interview published in a recent issue of the Cincinnati Times-Star said:

"There are distillers who make good whiskey and who age their product by the natural method, waiting from five to seven years for the result. It does not seem fair that the goods of this man should be brought into competition with those of a reefer who takes the fiery spirits just as they come from the still, colors and flavors those spirits and bottles the stuff in packages bearing labels which guarantee the contents to be genuine five-year-old whiskey; when it may not really be a week old, and not whiskey at all."

A UNIQUE GOVERNMENT LAW.

But how is the consumer to distinguish the good from the bad, you ask.

Don't you know you can buy an absolutely straight, pure, unadulterated whiskey and get a guarantee from the United States Government to that effect? It is a fact.

"EDGEWOOD" IS THE BRAND.

Uncle Sam does not put his stamp of approval on many products, but whiskey bottled in bond under the supervision of his United States storekeepers bears over the cork a little green stamp, which is printed in the United States Bureau of Printing and Engraving where greenbacks and gold certificates are made. "Edgewood" bears this stamp.

The Government protects you against counterfeit money, and counterfeit whiskey in the same manner.

"Edgewood" is genuine whiskey. From the time the grain is weighed by the Government storekeeper and put in the still, it is never for a moment free from Government supervision and control, until it is tax-paid and shipped from the United States bonded warehouse. The opening in the mash tubs and fermenters are locked with Government locks for which the storekeeper carries the keys. When the whiskey comes from the still the storekeeper draws it off into barrels in the bonded warehouse, to which he also carries the keys.

HOW STORED.

"Edgewood" is stored in selected white oak barrels here the whiskey remains, while maturing, exclusively under the Government control. The distiller himself not being permitted to enter his own warehouse unless with the permission of, and in the presence of the United States storekeeper.

After the whiskey has been maturing for four years or more, the distiller may make application to bottle it and must specify the size of the bottles, number to be put into each case, etc., whereupon the Secretary of the Treasury orders stamps printed. The whiskey is then bottled under the eye of the storekeeper who supervises the putting on of the stamps, after which the bottles are put into the cases and may be removed from the warehouse.

It is thus seen how jealous Uncle Sam is concerning the care of whiskey, owing to the fact that it has never left his control, he guarantees to the public by the little green stamp that the whiskey in the bottle bearing it is pure and free from adulteration, of one hundred per cent. proof, and not less than four years old.

THE GOVERNMENT STAMP SHOWS:

- 1st. The date of distillation.
- 2nd. The name of the distiller.
- 3rd. The number of the distillery.
- 4th. The state and district where it is located.
- 5th. The proof of the whiskey.
- 6th. The quantity in the bottle.
- 7th. The date it was bottled.

ONE OF THE EARLIEST SETTLERS.

Edgewood is one of the oldest brands as well as the best whiskey made in the State of Kentucky. The grain used is carefully culled. The water is furnished by the Old Elm Tree Spring, a bubbling fountain of cold, clear water that slaked the thirst of Daniel Boone and his companions in the early days of Kentucky.

AN OLD-FASHIONED SOUR MASH.

The distilling is done according to the old-fashioned Sour Mash process, the fermentation lasting ninety-six hours, and when the whiskey comes from the still in a limpid, crystal stream, it is drawn off into barrels that have previously been charred on the inside, in order that as it matures, the charcoal may purify it by absorption of any deleterious qualities. This charred lining to the barrel also gives to Edgewood its beautiful amber color.

WAREHOUSE HEATED BY STEAM.

Edgewood whiskey is cared for like a rare flower or plant, and watched at every stage of its development. The warehouses are kept at summer heat all through the winter months. They are dry and clean. The fresh air is continuously circulated through them by a complete fan system, in order that the last vestige of impurities thrown off through the pores of the barrel may be taken up and carried away. The child of a found parent receives no better attention or more watchful care than Edgewood whiskey. That is why it is the best whiskey made, and why it is pure and wholesome. It is the kind of stimulant you would give to your family in case of sickness, confident that it is free from any injurious elements and is perfect as the most solicitous care can make it.

HONORED AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Owing to its purity and excellent quality, Edgewood was selected as an example of a whiskey free from adulteration, and as such is now on display in the National Pure Food Exhibit, at the St. Louis World's Fair.

The Bottled-in-Bond Act was passed by Congress and allows distillers to bottle, under Government supervision, straight whiskey in bond not less than four years old. The United States Government prints the stamps and affixes them to the bottle, and thus guarantees that you get a pure, straight whiskey at least four years old, and one hundred proof.

Ask your dealer for "Edgewood"—Bottled in Bond, and ascertain that the stamp is intact. If your dealer doesn't keep it, write us and we will see that you are supplied.

Sarah Pendergast was not to blame that she had lived to the age of thirty-three without being married. When she looked back over the long road she couldn't see where it was her fault, and as for other people they said:

"What, Sarah Pendergast, the old maid? Why? She's been trying her very best for the last five years to catch a man, and she'd give all her old shoes even to say yes to a widower eighty years old."

Indeed, it was no one's fault. It was simply one of those things that occur now and then in every community. A girl gets left out for no particular reason, and the first thing she knows she's being called aunt and looked up to with respect due to old age. Sarah had a brother William for whom she kept house. William was an old bachelor and inclined to silence, but now and then he had a way of making the sister feel that her mission had been left unaccomplished. On the night of her thirty-third birthday the spirit moved him to say:

"Sarah, I've lived a single life for forty years, and I don't intend to change it, but if I were you I'd get a husband if I had to chase him from here to Beebe's Corners."

"I could have married ten times over if I had wanted to leave you," she replied.

"Well, don't let me stand in the way any longer. I ain't blaming you altogether, but folks are giggling and poking fun at you all over the county. Why don't you get out and hustle like other girls?"

Sarah defended her position with spirit, but that night after she got to bed she lay awake for two hours and then came to a decision. For the first time since she was old enough to marry she made up her mind to go on a man hunt and show Brother William and the rest of Temple county that she could get married as well as other folks. A thing that helped her to reach this decision just at the time was the fact that young Enos Johnson, son of Farmer Johnson, had been paying her attention. That is, he had called at the house now and then of an evening to eat apples and popcorn in her company and to talk weather and crops with her farmer brother. Sarah had aimed far higher than Enos, who was a whole souled fellow, but knew more about rutabagas than the spelling book. But Enos would do at a pinch, and the pinch seemed to have come. Thirty-three years old she was by the record in the family Bible, and even Brother William had begun to be sarcastic and impatient over it.

The innocent Enos didn't know what was in store for him and therefore came over the next evening to tell how the old spotted cow had a sore back and one of the legs had a swelling on its jaw. If he didn't see so busy eating Spitzenburg apples and cracking black walnuts he might have noticed that Sarah was more affectionate than usual and that Brother William went off to bed half an hour ahead of his usual time. But Enos had no guile and didn't expect it in others.

Before he left for home he had agreed to go sliding on the pond with Sarah the next evening, and that night she lay awake again to do a little more planning. Next morning, as soon as the bachelor brother had taken his departure for the woods, she hunted up an old ax and waded through the snow to a pond in the old wheat field to cut a good sized log in the ice. Had the pond been of a gentleman's farm it would have been called a lake. Had it been nearer to a barnyard it would have been referred to as a horse pond. It was only about an acre in extent and four feet deep. In that season of the year, being winter, the few bunches of water lilies that were left in summer had gone down into the mud to hibernate and the frogs croaked again.

When evening came again behold Brother William, nursing a sore heel before the kitchen fire, and Sarah and Enos, centered about the pond like two children on a holiday. The No. 10 boots worn by Enos soon made a sliding place, and, of course, the coy Sarah—Enos had never seen her so coy before—managed to slip down at every slide and be set on her feet again by his strong arms. Gradually, as she grew more coy and artless, and as Enos galloped about with more vigor and began to wonder if he wasn't a good deal of a fellow after all, she so managed things as to approach nearer and nearer the hole cut in the ice that morning. By and by she got a warning, and later on another, but she smiled and said she had a hero at hand to save her. Then came the climax of her planning.

There was a quick run downhill, a long slide and a fall and a scream, and into the hole she went. It was no matter that her feet could touch the cold mud and make the bullheads wonder what was going on or that she could have pulled herself out as fast as she got in had she so minded. She had a part to play, and she played it. At her first scream Enos started for the house yelling "Help!" at the top of his voice. At her second he turned back and grabbed a fence rail and shoved it at her so vigorously that he came near breaking her ribs with the end of it. It was not until seven minutes had risen on the night air to make the stars turn pale and shudder that Enos, things done his hat, yanked off his overcoat and blue yarn mittens and showed himself the hero that he was.

After trying to push Sarah a foot farther down into the mud and water he suddenly realized that the right way was to pull instead of push, and with a heave and a grunt he flopped her out on the ice. He had heard that half drowned people ought to be rolled on a barrel. There was no barrel handy, and so he rolled Sarah over and over in the snow. When he believed that he had recalled the flame of life he picked her up like a bag of potatoes and thung her over his shoulder and started for the house, and there was no mistaking his feelings when he said:

"If Sarah dies of this I hope our old muley cow will kick my head off!"

In wading through the snowdrifts and climbing rail fences Sarah was dropped three or four times, and each time she faintly protested that she was able to walk, but the hero had been roused to action and nothing could stop him. Up went Sarah again, her shoes leaking mud and water and her wet arms clinging around Enos' neck and shoulders, and at last he arrived at the kitchen door and kicked it open and laid his burden on the floor.

"Gee whiz, but what is it?" gasped Brother William as he got his sore heel under his chair and faced about.

"Sarah's fell in the pond!"

"No!"

"And I've fell in love with Sarah!"

"It can't be!"

"Enos, darling, kiss me!" came from the suppy bundle on the floor.

"Durned if I don't, and right off now, with Bill looking on!"

Next morning at breakfast, after a long period of silence, Brother William queried:

"Sarah, who cut that hole in the ice?"

"I did," she promptly answered.

"When are you and Enos to be married?"

"The first of May."

"Can't I see, Sarah, you are no old maid!"

The Guidance of Reason.

The villagers were all gathered round the little store talking about Sam Jones' lost coat. It was a two-year-old and had strayed out of the pasture lot the day before. Sam was worried about it, the neighbors had all been out looking for it without success, and no one seemed to know where to look for it.

Jim stood there looking on and listening. Jim was a tall, lank young fellow, regarded as half witted by some persons and as foolish by others.

"I think I could find your horse," he said to Sam Jones.

"You? Why, Jim, how do you think you could find him when we have had the best men in town out looking for him?"

"Waal," said Jim, "I could try, couldn't I?"

"Yes," answered the owner, "you can try, and if you find him I'll give you a dollar."

"All right," said Jim and walked away on his search. To the surprise of all he returned in less than half an hour leading the missing horse by a rope tied round his neck.

"Well, well!" said Jones as he took the horse and paid Jim the dollar. "How in the world did you find him so quick?"

Jim answered in his long drawn out words: "Why, I thought, 'Now, if I was a horse, where would I go?' And so I went there, and he had."

Gambling Paraphernalia.

"I am interested in a mail order business in expert dice and card work," said a Chicago man. "We sell furniture and furnishings of all kinds for club houses and other places all over the country. There is a big business in loaded dice and marked cards and other trick devices to gather in the coin, but I have yet to see a roulette wheel which is not operated on the square. It is impossible to make a roulette wheel which is crooked and which will bear inspection. One hears stories occasionally of wheels that are arranged with electric wires or with little pins to keep the ball from dropping into certain slots on the wheel, but you can put them all down as false. If a man could invent a machine which would assure him that the ball will fall on a certain number or even on a certain color or on odd or even numbers, he would never have to work again. But it cannot be done. In large cities gambling is protected by the police and nothing of that sort would be allowed. Where skin games are in operation the favorite trick is to sell short stacks, nineteen instead of twenty, but no live man can be fooled on that nowadays."—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

HEBRON NEWS

—TO THE—

The pastor of the M. E. church will close his pastorate with the Hebron and Kirkersville churches September 1, and with White Chapel and Jackson-town churches August 28.

Preaching at Methodist church Sunday morning following Sunday school; Sunday evening a short sermon will follow Epworth League services. Sermon subjects, "Home Religion," and "The Valley of Acher."

Preaching at the Kirkersville Methodist church Sunday at 2:30 p. m., standard time.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rosebrough entertained several friends from Newark last Sunday at their home on Main street.

Misses Clara and Fannie Duffell spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Columbus.

After a pleasant visit with Mrs. Amos Harris, Mrs. Dearing has returned to her home in Columbus.

Albert E. Turner, who conducts a cigar and confectionary store on Main street, has been a severe sufferer for several weeks with spinal trouble, which disabled him from walking. Tuesday he was taken to Newark to the office of Dr. E. F. Barnes where an X-ray examination was made, finding his case very critical.

Friday was a gala day for "Camp Myers," near Buckeye Lake, where Mr. Crist and family of Newark, are camping. They entertained in a very delightful manner on that afternoon about 25 little girls and boys in honor of their little daughter's 8th birthday anniversary. The children were all the pupils of Miss Myrtle Davis' Sunday school class Mr. Crist came to Hebron after them with a two horse wagon, and after loading up the little ones, who were chaperoned by Miss Davis, they proceeded to the camp ground where an enjoyable day was spent. There were several present from Newark, and all enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Crist to the fullest extent. Mr. Crist's little daughter was the recipient of several presents.

Claude Rogers left here Friday to join his brother and sister at Stockton, Cal. The Rev. J. H. Rogers and the rest of the family expect to leave here for Stockton after the M. E. conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGraw are the proud parents of a baby girl.

Mrs. Sarah Hutzell and two daughters, Mary and Philberta, were guests of Mrs. Amos Atwood, Wednesday.

W. A. Smith and family of Granville were guests of S. S. Sawyer, Sunday.

Mrs. Marble and son of Columbus were guests of D. M. Geiger and wife Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Swartz of Newark, accompanied her mother, Mrs. Mary Wharton, to her home here Sunday.

Mrs. Dr. C. M. Kramer and daughter Dorothy spent Sunday with friends at Millersport.

Charles Lygard of Columbus is spending his vacation here with friends.

Miss Nellie Hutzell, who recently finished her work at the Bliss College, at Columbus, has accepted a position as bookkeeper with Pence & Swisher, grain merchants.

Several from here attended at funeral of Thomas Cherry at Newark Tuesday.

Mrs. J. O. Davis and granddaughter, Katie, will leave here Thursday for the Lancaster camp meeting.

Misses Winnie and Nora Wells and Mary and Carrie Hutzell of Columbus are spending their vacation with their parents here.

The Rev. O. C. White and family of Baltimore, Md., are the guests of friends here.

C. V. Belmont and family have arrived home.

Chas. Davis was very unfortunate in having a valuable horse meet with a serious accident. It stepped on a rusty nail which penetrated to the death of about two inches into the foot. Dr. Jones, of Newark, is attending to its injuries and hopes to save the horse.

C. E. White and family of Newark are moving to Hebron in their residence on the Canada side.

After a pleasant visit with the family of F. S. Gully on Bacon street, Mrs. Wm. McCalland and daughter, Hilda, returned to Columbus, Saturday.

Puts an End to All.

AUDITORIUM

TRUSTEES SECURE AN ORCHESTRA FOR THE COMING SEASON

Leared Smith Will Provide an Organization of Nine Pieces for Theatrical Season.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Memorial Auditorium held on Friday night, the board was represented by Messrs. Edward Kilier, Judge Rees, George A. Ball, J. F. Parthorn and H. C. Bostwick.

The most important business was the engagement of Smith's orchestra of nine pieces for the coming year. Mr. Smith is expected to furnish the best orchestra that the Auditorium has ever had. It is larger by two pieces than the orchestra of the past two years.

The board decided to erect a ticket stand for the gallery and have the gallery entrance and exit on the alley, so that gallery tickets will be sold separate from other parts of the house. The board ordered the first floor ticket office repainted.

Favors Purchase of the Present Water System Providing the Tests are Satisfactory.

(Communicated.)

As there has been a great deal said and written in the last year or so and in regard to whether the city shall buy the old water works or not, I for one think and believe, taking everything into consideration, that the best thing for the city to do is to purchase the old plant if the pipes are in good condition and buildings and machinery are in good repairs. The company, it seems to me, offer the fair thing. They say the city can appoint one person and they another and these two a third person and they can have the pipes uncovered anywhere at the water company's cost. In fact, the water works company agree to pay all the costs and expenses of a critical examination of the whole plant. If we build a new plant our nice paved streets will all be torn up for probably a year or two and they will never be put in as good condition as they were before the tear-up. I think if this question was submitted to a vote of the citizens the buying of the old plant would carry by a very large majority. The water is the best in the state and the fire pressure the strongest. We have 30 or 40 pounds more pressure than either Zanesville or Columbus.

Respectfully,

Fine Plums.

The editor of The Advocate acknowledges the receipt of a couple of baskets of very fine plums, which were the gift of Mr. L. D. Seward, the well-known fruit grower of Newton township. The plums are named Red June and Abundance, and are of the Japan varieties.

Mr. Seward is one of the most up-to-date and successful fruit growers in this part of Ohio.

THE W. C. T. U.

The last meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held in the First M. E. church and was called to order at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Johnson led the devotionals and read the beautiful lesson found in the fifteenth chapter of St. John. After singing and prayer the business part of the meeting was taken up.

This being the first meeting in the month the members responded to their names by quoting a verse of scripture or hymn, after which the minutes of the preceding were read and approved. Quite a number of the superintendents of the different departments were present and made their reports.

Mrs. Metz has returned from her trip to the World's Fair, and gave an interesting talk.

Mrs. Upham, vice president, who has been visiting in Detroit for several weeks, was present and all were glad to greet her again.

Miss Mears, the matron at the Rescue Home, gave a satisfactory report of this branch of the work. Miss Mears has served faithfully and well in this work, notwithstanding her frail constitution. She is to enter into the work on a much larger scale in the city of New York, and will depart soon for her new field of labor. She says that this work is not what the world would smile upon, yet the joy and peace that comes in giving her life for others, far surpasses anything that this world can give.

Says His Desire Was to Nominate Good Man Who Could Be Elected.

(Communicated.)

You were in error in your issue of yesterday in saying the congressional contest at New Philadelphia was a factional affair. This is wrong, as Mr. Meek and Mr. Smyser are both recognized as Foraker men, and both have affiliated with that faction. My desire was to see, a good man nominated who would not prove an incubus to the Republican county ticket, and not because any man was an adherent to any faction. I simply sought to nominate the best man and one who, I believe, could be elected.

Respectfully

J. M. Ickes.

THE RAILWAYS

Railroad Business Good.

It is generally supposed that during a presidential year all kinds of business suffers, but President Ingalls of the Big Four, who is spending a few days in Cincinnati before returning to his family at Hot Springs, Va., says that business is good all over the country, and he looks for a continuance of present conditions because the people are not afraid of any revolution in financial or other policies, no matter who is the successful candidate for president. He ventures the opinion that Fairer will be elected. Mr. Ingalls has been taking a much needed rest. In regard to the numerous terminal schemes he said that the Big Four was not involved in any of them up to the present time.

DIAMOND RING

WHICH MR. BLOOMER GAVE TO DR. THEO. W. RANKIN.

Figures in an Interesting Suit Brought By Miss Daisy Cherry In a Columbus Court.

Miss Daisy G. Cherry of Newark, has filed suit in Common Pleas court in Columbus against Dr. Theodore W. Rankin, of 138 East State street, Columbus, to replevin a solitaire diamond ring, which it is claimed was formerly the property of Bryant J. Bloomer. One hundred dollars damages for wrongfully retaining the ring is also demanded. One of the attorneys who represents Mrs. Cherry, stated that the action was a friendly one.

Mr. Bloomer was formerly a railway clerk who died of pneumonia in Protestant hospital at Columbus. Before his death he gave this diamond ring to Dr. Rankin to give to Miss Cherry. Now it is claimed that he refuses to give up the ring without some legal proof that he is doing as he should, in order to protect himself against any future claims of the heirs that the ring was rightfully theirs.

Dr. Rankin, when asked about the case, said that he had nothing to say about it. He also stated that the action was a friendly one.
